

Protection for Touring cases

Impact protection / protective strips for Touring cases made from high-quality, durable plastic. The case is protected on the side and at the front edges from scratches and surface damage. Two molded parts per side made of sturdy plastic (one set includes 4 pieces).

Color: Black

The shape of the protective strips provides effective protection against scuffs and scratches. The profile of the upper impact protection is designed so that the widest point of the case is now the protection part and no longer the painted surface of the case. The plastic used is elastic and springy, but not as soft as rubber (thermoplastic material). This effectively prevents paint damage, for example when maneuvering. Easy to install using double-sided adhesive tape.
